NOTES

APPLICATION FOR RESOURCE CONSENT

Pursuant to Section 88 of the Resource Management Act 1991 | Form 9 5PL-004[f]

ASSESSMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL EFFECTS

All Resource Consent applications require an Assessment of Environmental Effects [AEE]. An AEE is a report that outlines the effects that your proposed activity might have on the environment. The AEE is the primary tool that Planning staff will use to assess the merits of your proposal. If not enough information is provided in the AEE, your application will be considered incomplete and we will not be able to accept it.

In preparing your AEE you must highlight all the effects of your proposal including both the negative and positive effects. Examples of possible effects include:

- Loss of privacy
- Physical closeness to adjoining property
- Intrusion on living space of adjoining property
- Building bulk
- Noise
- Hours of operation
- Generation of additional traffic
- Visual amenity
- Dust
- Light
- Deficiency in parking, manoeuvring, loading and access
- Assessing whether activity is in character with and complementary to the surrounding neighbourhood
- Assessing whether the design and appearance of the activity will have adverse effects on the ambience and amenity of the surrounding neighbourhood
- Other environmental disturbances
- Traffic and pedestrian safety

In addition to identifying any effects associated with your proposal, you must show how you propose to avoid, remedy or mitigate these effects.

If any consultation has been undertaken, please provide details of the results.

If you have trouble compiling the information, or need some advice on aspects of your application, consult a Council Planning Officer. There are also a range of professionals who can give you expert advice including Planners, Acoustic Consultants, Traffic Engineers, Architects, Landscape Architects, and Surveyors.
